Innovators Row @ CBIC Awards Gala:
A Showcase of Startups & Innovators

Apply to Exhibit by April 21, 2017

The Charlottesville Business Innovation Council (CBIC) showcases Central Virginia entrepreneurs, innovators, and organizations that contribute significantly to the region's innovation ecosystem.

CBIC will select as many as 30 representatives for an opportunity to showcase their products, ideas, services and innovations at CBIC's Innovators Row.

More than 400 technology and innovation movers & shakers are expected to attend the CBIC Awards Gala at Boar's Head Inn on Thursday, May 18th, 2017. This is an amazing opportunity to showcase the innovation you have worked on and connect with individuals that could take your idea to the next level.

Each exhibitor selected will be provided with approximately 4 feet of table space along Innovators Row to demonstrate and amaze the more than 400 assembled investors, entrepreneurs, business and civic leaders.

Applications to be considered for participation in CBIC’s Innovators Row due by midnight Friday, April 21, 2017.

There is no cost to apply, but if selected, there will be a single Innovators Row Exhibit Fees of $250, which includes 2 all-access gala tickets, which will be due no later than May 7th. Selected individuals or groups will be notified and announced by May 1st and promoted by CBIC.

For additional info or questions, please contact: CBIC director and Innovators Row co-chair: Jeff Faust at faustj1@charlottesvilleschools.org or CBIC executive director Tracey Greene at Executive@Cvillebic.org or visit http://cvilleinnovation.org/awards